WEST LIBERTY, MORGAN COUNTY, KENTUCKY, THURSDAY, AUGUST 25, 1938

WHOLE NUMBER 1451

LOCAL NEWS

Earl Henry of Detroit, Michigan, is visiting here.

Taking the county as a whole a really fine corn crop is now ripening.

Hendrix Henry has returned from a Lexington hospital very much improved.

Bruce and Wyck McKenize of Illinois are here visiting with home folks for awhile.

Misses Lurline Reed and Ethel Marie Elam visited the week end with friends at Morehead.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Carpenter had as Saturday night and Sunday guest, Miss Mildred Vance, of Woodsbend.

Pauline Gay Maek has returned from a few weeks visit with her grandmother of near Frenchburg.

Circuit Court adjourned Saturday and County Court was in session Monday, and most of us survived.

Closing out large stock Nationally advertised new guns. Bargain prices. List free. Hoyt's Store, Sac City, Iowa.

Lockwood Elam and William Childers are visiting William's sister, Mrs. Kathleen Siegel, in Detroit, Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Davis had as guests Sunday Mrs. J. T. Wells of Winchester and Mrs. J. D. Wells of Wells Hill.

Mrs. J. P. Oney, Misses Viva Brondelle Bowles and Anna Jean Price and Delbert Price were in Magoffin County Tuesday.

Misses Sally Pelfrey and Helen Stacy went to Ashland Sunday to spend two weeks vacation with Mr. and Mrs. James Perry.

W. H. Childers visited his brother, W. K. Childers, Sunday, who is in Lexington hospital. We hope he will soon be out again.

Mrs. W. H. Childers and daughter, Ella Ruth, visited Mrs. Childers' parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Day, of Mariba, one day last week.

Mrs. Wm. Harold Nickell of Lexington spent last week end here with her husband and with Mr. and Mrs. Blaine Nickell and family.

Forest Adams who is working at Camden, Indiana, visited relatives in the west part of the county several days the fore part of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Auty McClain moved last week into their South. Main Street residence which they purchased some weeks ago. W. G. Ratliff who occupied this pretty Main Street home moved into Mrs. McClain's Water Street residence which also is one of the town's finest homesites.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Price, Misses Helen and Anna Jean Price, Mrs. Chrystal Howard and son, Paul Lerold, Misses Vivian and Norma Wheeler, of Detroit, Michigan, Henry Lee, Warnie Short and Arnold McKenize went on a fox hunt near Index Saturday night. Eats were taken and all spent a pleasant evening.

Mrs. Gilliam and daughters, Virginia and Betty, and son, Earl, of Salyersville were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Monk Gilliam and family and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Childers one day last week. While visiting with Mrs. Childers, Mrs. Gilliam of Salyersville, fell on the stairs and broke her wrist and received other minor cuts and bruises. She was taken to a hospital and is doing nicely. Miss Betty remained here for a visit.

NOTICE TO THE WORLD

Last week the President of the United States and the Prime Minister of the Dominion of Canada joined in dedicating an inter-national bridge connecting the two nations and facilitating the free travel of their citizens across the international boundary.

Americans are apt to take for granted the state of peace which exists between them. They cherish no ideas of aggression against each other but only the hope of developing in mutual friendship. It is quite different from the situation that exists upon the boundaries that divide some of the great nations of the world.

Significantly, President Roosevelt told a Canadian audience that the people of the United States "will not stand idly by" if their soil is threatened by any other empire. This hemisphere, said the President, is no longer far away from the rest of the world but because of its resources has become a "consideration to every propaganda office and to every general staff beyond the seas."

Expressing hope that the two countries could make a contribution to world peace the President declared that if the hope faded to materialize "we can assure each other that this hemisphere at least shall remain a strong citadel where civilization can flourish unimpeded." This evidently serves notice upon the world's general staffs that the Monroe Doctrine will, if necessary, be used to safeguard all of the Western Hemisphere from foreign invasion.

We think the President, in making these declarations, spoke the mind and will of the vast majority of American citizens. No longer is there serious division of opinion upon the determination to prevent the development of European or Asiatic empires on this side of the two oceans that separate the Western Hemisphere from the other nations of the world.

BARN RAISING

Burford Wells invited his friends and neighbors to join him on Friday of last week for an old fashioned barn raising. About a dozen men united their efforts and before night came they had all the heavy work done and the first pair of rafters nailed up.

While the men were doing all this, Mrs. Wells, assisted by several neighbor women and girls, prepared a bountiful dinner, to the sad loss of five big chickens. As if this were not enough, in mid-afternoon they interrupted the work long enough to serve each workman his capacity of ice cream.

All in all, it was a pleasant and satisfactory day, both from the standpoint of work done and of food consumed. Present were: Mr. and Burford Wells and children, David and Jerry, Mrs. John David Wells, George Peyton, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wells, Mr. and Mrs. Boone Wells, Rev. and Mrs. Roscoe Brong, J. C. May, Edgar Wells, W. H. Wells, Edwin Davis, Ira Brown, Jim West, H. A. Wells, Lloyd Allen, Finley Allen, Tommy and Charles Davis, Misses Betsy Wells, Lillian Wells, Carrie Adams, Zelda Short, and Frances Wells, Mrs. Carrie West, Mrs. Walter Davis, Mrs. Joe Short, and Mrs. Mona Wells.

HIGH LODGE ROOMS

The highest elevation of a Masonic lodge room is said to be that of Lodge No. 1094, which is obedient to the Grand Lodge of Scotland, located in the Andes Mountains at Cerro de Pasco, Peru, and known as the "Roof of the World Lodge." The room in which this lodge meets has an elevation of 14,167 feet.

There is a Masonic Lodge room at an elevation of 9,500 feet in the Rockies in Kokomo County, Colorado. This lodge room, it is claimed, is the highest in elevation in the United States.

Making Good in Business

W. G. Cottle and wife and daughter, Barbara Ann, of Nashville, were here visiting their parents and other relatives last week. Mr. Cottle is the son of D. N. Cottle near West Liberty and was graduated from the local high school and Bowling Green Business College. He left here in 1922 and soon afterward became connected with the Nashville Cotton Oil Mill Corporation of Nashville, Tennessee, and is now Secretary and Treasurer of that million dollar concern.

PRESIDENTIAL PURGE O. K.

Washington, Aug. 23 (AP)—Senator Logan, Kentucky Democrat, said tonight that big business interests were trying to obscure the real issue—of progress or reaction—by sounding "false alarms" over President Roosevelt's attempts to oust anti-administration Democrats from Congress.

"Their old, steadfast, loyal tool, the Republican Party, being no longer of effective use to them, they have turned their attention to the Democratic Party in an effort to capture it piecemeal," he said in a radio address.

"A member of Congress, masquerading as a Democrat but voting Republican, has just as much value for them as a straight-out Republican and sometimes more."

The President, Logan said, had two courses open: To "sit idly and see the privileged few who oppose him exercise such influence as will divide his party," or to fight.

LADIES' AID SOCIETY

The Ladies' Aid Society of Cannel City Union Church met with Mrs. Press Sebastian, August 18, 1938. Members present were: Miss Emily Spencer, Mrs. Press Sebastian, Mrs. Sam Collins, Mrs. Inez Donovan, Mrs. Carl Sebastian, Mrs. Tom Davis, Miss Oma Zornes and Mrs. J. W. Benton and Mrs. Asa Carter.

The hymn was, "Pass Me Not." The hostess read as devotional Acts V, then all repeated the Lord's Prayer.

After reading of the minutes and roll call work was begun on the quilt tops and 22 quilt squares were made.

During the social hour the hostess served tea cakes and lemonade. We adjourned to meet with Mrs. Earl Haney September 1, 1938.

MRS. CLYDE WELLS, Secretary.

RAZING OLD JAIL

The old county jail building here, which has held passengers enroute to Frankfort for many years, is now being torn down. The two men prisoners who were confined there have been lodged in the town jail and the lone woman prisoner has her bunk in the grand jury room in the court house.

The steel cage in the old jail is being built into the new jail which is now nearing completion. So far as reported no other material from the old structure will be used. The removal of this structure will very much improve the appearance of the south front of the courthouse yard.

NOTICE

There will be a business meeting of the officers and members of the Christian Church, in the church auditorium at 7:30 P.M., Thursday evening, August 25, 1938.

There is important business to be taken care of and it is imperative that all be present.

The Way We Act

The Canadian Broadcasting Corporation will not permit the radio to be used in Canada to advertise distilled liquors, wine, or beer. Why can't we do the same thing? We have just as much sense as the Canadians, even if we don't always act like it.

Lodge to Meet

The regular meeting of the High-Lodge of Masons will meet in regular communication on Saturday night, September 3. There is an interesting meeting in store and all members will make an effort to be present.

Here From Texas

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. W. Henry of Kerrville, Texas, are spending their vacation with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Henry at Pomp. Mr. Henry had been in the Veteran Hospital and is very much improved.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill May and two children, Billy Nell and Parker, left here Thursday for a tour through West Virginia and Virginia. They spent a few days in the mountains of Virginia and visited many interesting historical places. They returned to West Liberty Sunday.

Arnold Tyler, who had been visiting his aunt, Mrs. Jerry Salyers, at Newport, returned home Sunday and reported he had a fine time.

West Liberty young folks will go back to school Monday.

HOLDS REVIVAL

Matthew, Ky.—Several people from this community motored to Johnson County near Paintsville at Odds where Hobert McGuire of this place had been holding a two weeks revival. A large crowd of people assembled Sunday, August 14, for the closing day and also to witness an unusual baptizing. About 50 people were baptized Sunday afternoon.

During the two weeks meeting there were 100 additions, 74 of which were baptized and 26 reclaimed. As a result of this meeting a new church and Sunday school was established. Previously there was no regular church building but a new church house is to be erected soon.

Those from this community who attended the meeting Sunday were: Mr. and Mrs. J. I. McGuire and grand daughter, Wilma G. Cecil, Mr. and Mrs. Noah Nickell and children, Kirby, Junior, Ivetta and Bonetta—these four, or the Nickell Quartet, gave some special numbers at the meeting. Others attending were Manford France and daughters, Alta, Frances, Florence, and Nola Jean, Bonnie and Hazel Brown, Otis McGuire, Ova DeLong of Ashland, Sammie Turner, Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Prater and children, Justine, Billie, Betty Jean and Helen Fern, Clyde and Lillian Prater and Lucy DeLong.

CONTRIBUTED

BATES THANKS VOTERS

The Licking Valley Courier, West Liberty, Kentucky, Dear Sirs:

I wish to express through the columns of your paper my sincere thanks for the support given me in the Primary held Saturday, August 6th. Such a splendid vote could not have been received without the loyal support of many splendid democrats. I am glad to say that there was no ill feeling created during the campaign by me, because I steadfastly refused to make any comments against any of my opponents.

I now feel it the duty of every democrat to get behind the nominee and work for a splendid victory in November, and I feel certain that the five gentlemen who ran against me will join me in urging the democrats of this District to maintain the standards which have been set by my predecessor and give to this District an overwhelming majority.

Sincerely yours,

JOE B. BATES

Welcome Surprise Visitors

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Reed were very much surprised Sunday when 3 loaded cars drove up with baskets and boxes filled to the limit. Nieces and nephews of Mrs. Reed: Mr. and Mrs. Jack Thomas and children, Leta, Ravonelle, Jack, Charles and Billy, of Poplar Flat; Mr. and Mrs. Will Fears and children, Virginia, Cora Nell, Katherine Gasnetta and Jerry Vanceburg; Mr. and Mrs. Bechan Simpson and children, Betty, Billy, John and Freddie, Miss Vivian Simpson all of Tulesburg; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Simpson and children, Eileen, Albert Lee and Lousa, of Kankakee, Illinois. The tables were spread out in the shade. All had a real feast and a happy time together. This was the first visit for some of them to our town.

Attend Reunion

Mrs. Henry C. Rose and son, Chester, in company with her mother, Mrs. Beatrice Grigsby, and Mrs. Edna Meade and Mary Judith Meade and Frederick Stafford Smith of Paintsville attended the Stafford family reunion at Wesley Chapel at Staffordville, Virginia, over the last week end. The gathering was the get together of an old Virginia family which has scattered out over several states. About 800 people answered the clan call and relatives took occasion to renew their kinship.

Baptists to Meet

The annual meeting of the Enterprise Association of Regular Baptists will be held this year at Bethany Church on War Creek near West Liberty, August 26, 27 and 28. The Association is composed of 58 churches in Kentucky, Ohio, West Virginia and Washington.

Visiting at Beatyville

Mrs. D. M. Rowland of Dingus passed through town on Monday on her way to Beatyville where she will visit with her daughter, Mrs. G. C. Papler, for about a week. Mrs. Rowland was returning Mrs. Napier's son, G. C., to his home at Beatyville.

SEWING CIRCLE METING

Cannel City, Ky.—The Sewing Circle of the Cannel City Church of God, met Friday, August 12 with Mrs. Earle Morris. The meeting was opened by singing, "Blessed Assurance" and "Sweet Hour of Prayer." The hostess read the 31 chapter of Proverbs which was very appropriate. Mrs. Arthur Gathman led in Prayer.

The work on the quilt top was then taken up and much work was done. One top was sold to Mrs. Earle Morris; since the last meeting and one completed at this meeting was sold to Mrs. Gathman.

Those present were: Mrs. J. D. Benton, Mrs. Earle Morris, Mrs. W. T. Mrs. Chalmer Benton, Mrs. Arthur Gathman, Mrs. Lonnie Patrick, Mrs. M. H. Ferguson, Mrs. J. W. Benton, Miss Frances Lewis, Miss Dora Lee Benton, Miss Otta Mae Combs, Miss Geneva Benton, Misses Dolores Wray Ferguson and Colleen Patrick.

During the social hour the hostess served delicious refreshments of fruit salad, cakes and coolade. After a very delightful afternoon we adjourned to meet with Mrs. Chalmer Benton, August 26.

Meeting on Grassy

Tabernacle Meeting will begin September 2 at Lower Grassy near Bear Wallow. Will be conducted by Rev. Frank E. Sowards. Everybody invited to attend. Let us join the band and make this an old time revival for the glory of God.

STATE FAIR PRIZES LARGE

Kentucky Homemakers who enter their proudest culinary and hand work achievements in the Woman's Department displays at the Kentucky State Fair, September 12 to 17, will compete not only for distinction but for cash awards that have been increased $1,000 over last years total. These awards will be supplemented by silver trophies and many other special prizes donated by the merchants and manufacturers, it is announced by H. S. Cleveland, Manager of the Kentucky State Fair.

Added to the usual sections for individual competition is a special award for the best group of not more than fifteen hand made articles exhibited by any Woman's Club or Society. Articles shown in this class will not be eligible for individual prizes, but will compete for a first prize of $25, second prize $15, and third $10.

This year pies will at last come into their own special section with prizes totaling $20 dollars. There will be nineteen first and second prizes for bread and it will be judged on general appearance, proper cooking, odor, taste, texture, lightness, crumb and color of crumb. A silver platter, an assortment of kitchen supplies and great array of cash prizes will head the cake section. Seventeen varieties of cakes will be shown and thirteen kinds of small cakes, from plain sugar cookies to doughnuts. To the exhibitor showing the best individual collection of canned goods, preserves, jams, and marmalades will go a first prize of $10 and to the runner-up, $5. A silver trophy is to be awarded for the most first prizes (not less than 3) in the canning class. Country hams will bring the highest individual award with a first prize of $15 and a second prize of $10. The hams entered must be cooked, two years old or over, and must weigh not less than ten pounds after cooking. There will be thirteen different types of candies and each entry must contain not less than a pound.

The textile section, which offers a total of $710 in prize money, will include besides the regular exhibits special departments for children's and girl's handwork. Cotton quilts, modern applique, modern patchwork, and trapunto work will each have four chances at prize money, distributed $20 for first, $15 for second, $10 third and $5 for fourth place. Articles of clothing are included in the group called "articles made up" and there will be a whole section devoted to infants' wear. The house furnishings group will include towels of every description, pillows and cases, linens, mats and kitchen curtains, shoe bags, sewing bags and specimens of petal point. The present flair for knitting should bring forth additional entries in the knitting and crocheting section, which offers a total of $198.50 in prize money.

The Art and Craft section will offer competition in the following classes: rugs, weaving, handcraft, professional painting in oil or water colors, amateur watercolor and pastel, art work, basketry, hand decorated china or glass, novelties, photography and antiques with a junior department for boys and girls under 16 years of age.

All entries made in the Woman's Department exhibits must be made in writing or printed blanks furnished by the State Fair and must be in the hands of the State Fair not later than Wednesday, August 31. Blanks will be sent in any quantity desired upon request to the State Fair office, Louisville, Ky. Any article brought direct to the Woman's Department in the Merchants and Manufacturers building will be received up to noon Thursday, September 8. They will be guarded under lock and key.

Complete rules governing all displays and a complete list of all opportunities for competition and the awards offered are contained in the premium booklet which may be obtained by writing to Kentucky State Fair, Louisville, Kentucky.

Return From Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Perry C. Henry returned home Sunday from a two weeks vacation in the Northern states. They spent a few days with their son, Clayton, in Detroit, Michigan. Then after a short tour in Ontario, Canada, they returned via Middletown, Ohio, and spent several days there with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Hobert B. Arnett of Stacy Fork have moved in with Miss Mosciote Walsh, east of town.

FARMERS' COLUMN

KENTUCKY FARM NEWS

By gradually increasing his herd of hogs and raising the quality, Clarence McAtee of Trigg county has one of the state's best small herds. Last month, 59 pigs two to three months old gained an average of 35 pounds each at a cost of only 3 1/2 cents per pound.

Analyses of flock records kept by Fleming county farmers show that profits are made in poultry when good breeding, balanced rations, sanitation and good management are features of the work. Of the chickens started, 97 percent were raised.

Ton-litter projects started by Douglas Graham and Ray Cardwell, Hopkins county, were used as demonstrations at a recent meeting. Eleven Chester White pigs were found to weigh 2,060 pounds at the end of 165 days, and 11 Duroc Jersey pigs weighed 2,460 pounds.

Rockcastle county farmers are coming to believe that there are profits in sheep raising, so during the past month 200 sheep have been brought into the county and more are on the way. Hitherto the county has had practically no sheep.

Soil tests, soil building practice meetings, and orders for TVA phosphate show Union county's increased interest in better soils, as a result of demonstrations. W. W. Sugg, who is handling the limestone business, reports record orders.

Hard-hit by recent floods, Elliott county farmers found that their hay crops survived well. Considerable tobacco and 1,200 acres of other crops were destroyed.

IRRIGATED POTATOES

Irrigating potatoes just at the time they most needed water, John Flister of Fayette county produced 500 bushels to the acre from a 4 1/2 acre field. He pumped water from a pond near the patch, running it down the rows with a minimum of labor and expense. This is thought to be one of the largest yields on record in Kentucky.

HOP CLOVER RECOMMENDED

Hop clover sowed in September or October provides early spring pasture. It will grow on most soils, withstands heavy grazing early in the year, and is a self-seeder if permitted to bloom. Tests indicate that best results are obtained when hop clover is sowed on short turf. In tall grass it tends to grow spindly and become yellowish in color. Fall is the best time for seeding.

LIME-PHOSPHATE TEST

A leaflet published by the Kentucky College of Agriculture tells how to test soil for the need of lime and phosphate. Simple tests can be made which will indicate whether the soil is strongly acid and whether it is low or high in phosphate. Directions also are given for taking soil samples to be sent to the Agricultural Experiment Station for analysis. Interested farmers should see their county agent for copies of this leaflet and for assistance in testing their soil.

CANNING AT HOME

A bride of 18 doing her first canning or an experienced homemaker about to celebrate her golden wedding day, might both profit from a circular on "Home Canning" just issued by the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture. In it Miss Florence Imlay and Mrs. Pearl Haak, food specialists for the college, discuss phases of up-to-date canning methods. Types of canners and how to use them; types of spoilage, the water bath, steamers, open kettle and oven; containers for canning; preparing equipment; cleaning and grading of food products for canning; methods even as to lids and sealing the glass jars—these are a few of the subjects taken up in detail, as well as recipes for many products. The circular may be obtained by asking the college for Circular No. 314.

Frank Laughlin should try for a walking marathon record. His distaste for the crawling variety of animals connected with sleeping was so strong one night where he was teaching in Morgan county that he got up and walked to town—14 miles away!—Morehead Independent.

In answer to a recent request from the Kiwanis Club that telephonic service in Prestonsburg be modernized, two Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph officials met with a small group of citizens in City Attorney Woodrow Burchett's office Wednesday and formulated a plan whereby dial system telephones might be put into service here.—Floyd County Times.

Some folks have been making wisecracks because Governor-Nominate W. Lee O'Daniel of Texas used a hillbilly band in his campaign. We hold no brief for him in particular, and we are not interested in the political angles of his victory. But we wonder if some pertinent facts haven't been overlooked. The key to his platform was the Ten Commandments. Things are now cluttered up with laws, and when one Congress alone enacts 1,759 new ones, we are inclined to wonder if the Ten Commandments wouldn't be enough.—East Kentucky Journal.

Henry Ford, Detroit motor magnet, it is said has opened a drive to return young men to the land and has set aside a huge tract of land near his home in Dearborn for the first experiment. Mr. Ford hopes his move will become nation wide.

Young men between the ages of seventeen and twenty years are to farm the tracts six months in the year, working in the Ford motor plants the remaining six months.

The report says Mr. Ford and President Roosevelt spent some time in discussing the relationship of agriculture to industry during Ford's recent visit to the White House.—Sandy Valley Enquirer.

Declaring that the majority of drunkenness cases brought before his court were drinkers of "rubbing alcohol," County Judge J. D. Gross yesterday morning issued an order banning the sale of the "rub" in Laurel county. He said this applied to all businesses in the county, including drug stores, and that he had given notice that all present stock of alcohol must be disposed of within twenty days. This, however, does not apply to physicians, he stated. After this specified time, possession of rubbing alcohol will be considered by him the same as liquor in possession, he said, and guilty parties will be tried under this statute. The judge declared that "rub" was an intoxicating beverage and that its sale was similar to that of selling whiskey in dry territory. For the last several months all purchasers have had to sign for it.—The Sentinel-Echo.

WASHINGTON NOTES

PROSECUTION

Some months ago a Group Health Association was organized in Washington with the direct encouragement of the Farm Loan Board Bank. It was a medical cooperative association for some 2,500 Government employees and their 3,500 dependents. The Journal of the American Medical Association then called upon the United States District Attorney to take action against "unlicensed, unregulated, health insurance and the corporate practice of medicine." Recently, however, the tables were turned. The Government announced that the Medical Association would be hailed before the grand jury under the Anti-Trust laws on charges of intimidating the cooperative staff and preventing them from rendering medical service to the members of the Association.

EXPORTS

Our exports to sixteen countries with which reciprocal trade agreements have been made, increased 68.2 per cent last year over the average for 1934-35, pre-agreement period, says the Department of Commerce. Exports to non-agreement nations gained 44.2 per cent.

FOOD PRICES

Retail prices of foods in the United States declined slightly in the month ending July 12, according to the Bureau of Labor statistics. The index based on the 1923-25 average, was 80.0 as compared with 80.2 on June 14. Exactly a year before, the index stood at 85.9. A decline in the cost of fresh fruits and vegetables accounted for the change and beef and eggs advanced moderately.

FLIGHT

Forty-four long-range patrol bombing sea planes, comprising Patrol Wing One, recently made a record-breaking mass flight while flying 1,400 miles non-stop from Seattle to San Diego. The Wing had recently been flying in Alaskan territory.

ANTI-LYNCHING

Readers can look for a renewed effort to pass some special legislation designed to curb lynching. Among others, Representative Ludlow of Indiana, plans to introduce some bill along this line. During the last session of Congress, Senator Wagner of New York, failed in an effort to force the anti-lynching bill through Congress. His bill was defeated by a filibuster, aided by the argument of Senators Borah of Idaho, and Norris of Nebraska.

CLOTHING

The Procurement Division of the Treasury Department, which has been purchasing men's clothing for the WPA, has bought 1,001,546 units at a cost of $8,312,574. With the possibility that some additional garments may be purchased, the surplus in cheaper clothing is expected to be largely removed. The WPA program has not affected stocks of clothing in retail brackets of $30 or more. The purchases were made to secure clothing for those on relief and to enable clothing plants to operate again on a full-time basis and give employment to clothing workers.

JOBS

The National Youth Administration reports that it found private employment for more than 100,000 youths of 16 to 24 between March 1, 1936 and June 1, 1938.

ALIENS

Acting in response to a Senate resolution, the Navy Department is listing all aliens now employed in any capacity in the Navy Yards. The Senate resolution calls for a list of alien employees, with addresses, pay and the reason for employment in each instance.

RELIEF

The cost of public relief during June, according to figures compiled by the Social Security Board, was $249,218,000. This was an increase of $1,342,000 over May. The total included, Federal, State and local government's contributions, including earnings under the work programs.

CONSCIENCE

The Conscience Fund of the Treasury has received $50 from Detroit. The money was sent by a former soldier who said that he stole articles of clothing over a period of nine years. He simply added: "The United States of America has been very good to me and I humbly ask your forgiveness."

THIRD TERM

The discussion over whether or not President Roosevelt will be a candidate for a third term revived efforts to amend the Constitution to limit the service of a President to one term of six years. Senator Burke says he will introduce an amendment to this effect. There are some students of governmental affairs who believe that it would be better for the nation if the President of this country held his office somewhat along the parliamentary principles which operate in Great Britain. When the English Prime Minister loses support of the House of Commons, a general election ensues, thus testing public sentiment almost immediately.

PACK HORSE LIBRARY SUCCESSFUL

Morgan County has the following workers in the Pack Horse Library: Katherine Arnett, Supervisor. Workers: Alma Brooks, Muriel Preston, Lola Henry, Nell Welch, Edna Cantrell, Phoebe Elam, Ollie Hutchinson, Lillie Collins, Gladys Short, Maxine Howard. These workers deliver more than 2500 volumes and they are in circulation over about two-thirds of the county. 1445 homes were visited last month in this county. More than 250 books are delivered each day and 400 magazines, western stories and religious books also fiction are most popular books. The central library in West Liberty is located on the square across from the Childers Hotel and the courthouse and is visited by many outside people from other places. A group of girls representing the Girls Reserve of Carrollton, Kentucky, visited the library this week.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Bible school every Sunday at 10 A. M. Preaching services by the pastor, Dr. G. C. Banks, the second and fourth Sunday of each month at 11 A. M. and 7 P. M.

REED'S TRIP EAST

On August 10 we all set out for Virginia. First day we ate our lunch at Pound Gap on top of Cumberland Mt., 2400 feet high. Pound was the place where the young girl killed her father with her shoe heel, saw the courthouse where she was tried. Stayed Wednesday night at Gus Griffiths, had Virginia and Kentucky supper. All spread our supper together. It was a real feast.

August 11—Thursday morning we all started for Cedar Bluff where my (L. B. Reed's) mother was born and went to mill at Cedar Bluff. The old mill is gone but part of the rocks are still there. We saw the house and barn and mountain where my mother has told me so often about playing there. Then we left for Abingdon and ate dinner at Marion, Va. Crossing Mt. Rodgers 5719 feet high and the highest mountain in Va., on to Wytheville, Pulaski. We traveled along the Blue Ridge Mts of Va., on the trail of the lonesome pine at 3:30 crossing new river to Radford to Christiansburg visited the Blue Ridge overall factory crossing Roanoke River to Elliston and Salem at 5 o'clock we were in Roanoke, Va., such a beautiful place. At Cloverdale we saw our first over shot mill then we crossed the James River August 11 stayed overnight at Natural Bridge where Mrs. Reed's grandfather, John D. Ross, was born and lived 17 years and played at Natural Bridge many times.

August 12—Went through Colonial Overlook and Blanket mills, across Clinch River at Cedar Mills. At Lexington, Va., we visited the museum of General Lee from there to Greenville. At 10 o'clock we were in Shenandoah Valley. On to Stanton we saw the home of Woodrow Wilson. At 2 o'clock Friday we crossed the Shenandoah River. At Luray they were having a flag parade and Kentucky was in the middle. We felt honored. Then we crossed Rappahannock River, went through where the Battle of Bull Run was fought, where the first confederate soldier was killed. Then to Alexandria, oldest city in Virginia.

There we saw the George Washington Masonic Memorial which was erected from funds contributed by millions of members of the Masonic Fraternity. At 4 o'clock crossing Patomac River over to the Capitol. Now at Arlington looking at the Unknown Soldier's tomb and watching the lone soldier on his 24 hour beat; visited Lee's old home. Everything as it was when they were there. The family Bible lay open on the table—a chair in front as though someone had just gotten up. We stood by the bones of 2111 unknown Union soldiers all in one tomb buried in 1866. Saw General Sheridan's tomb. William Howard Taft was the only President buried in Arlington. We spent quite a while at Washington's Monument. It is 555 feet high, 55 feet wide, was started in 1848. In 1854 had 150 feet finished and ran out of money. It was started again in 1879 and finished in 1885 and opened to the public in 1883. We all went up in the Monument and had a real view over the city.

August 13—We were in the Ford Theatre where Lincoln was assassinated, also in the home where he died. We visited Lincoln's Memorial. Around this Memorial, which is made from white marble, are 48 large white marble posts; one for each state. We visited the U. S. Supreme Court, the Library of Congress, Bartholdi Fountain, House of Representatives, Senate Chamber, Department of Commerce, Arlington National Cemetery, Memorial Amphitheatre, Custis-Lee Mansion, White House, Department of Justice Building, Capitol, Peace Monument, Chamber of Commerce and the World War Memorial. We saw the flag from which Frances Scott Key composed the song, "The Star Spangled Banner." It had 17 stars on it. We went then to Washington's old home at Mt. Vernon, also visited the tomb where Washington and family lie on the bank of the Potomac River.

August 14—Left Washington and arrived in Maryland and left Maryland and entered Pennsylvania; visited the scene of the Battle of Gettysburg, July 1, 2, and 3, 1863. Three battles fought there in 3 days. Saw the statue of Robert E. Lee, General George Gordon Meade, the home of Jennie Wade the only girl killed in Gettysburg. Jennie was baking bread for the Union soldiers. She was killed a few days before her sweetheart, Corporal Skelly, was killed at Winchester, Va. We were on the spot where the first blood was shed July 1, 1863; 2278 men were in battle when the battle was over only 250 remained. We visited several more places of interest then headed for the Skyline Drive which was grand.

We came on to Ashland, spent the night with our son, Joe F. Reed, and family. On Wednesday, August 17, at 4:30 we landed in West Liberty. MRS. L. B. REED

RURAL SCHOOL STANDARDS

I Classroom Management

Light, heat, and ventilation:
The room should have the best possible lighting. The window shades should be so adjusted as to allow plenty of light without direct sunlight on either the pupils or the blackboard which they are using.
A comfortable, yet even, heat should be kept at all times. The temperature should remain at or near 68 F.

The room should be kept well ventilated. Bad air should have an exit and fresh air an entrance.

Order and Cleanliness
Careful attention should at all times be given the schoolroom and grounds. They should be kept clean, orderly and attractive.

Both teacher and pupils' desks should be kept in order.
All school equipment should be well taken care of and well arranged.
A flag properly displayed should be in every school room.
Pupils' work should be properly displayed.

Routine Work
The teacher should have a definite plan for calling and dismissing classes.

Pupils should be encouraged to move about in an orderly manner.
Hats and wraps should be properly provided for.

Seating should be properly arranged. Care should be exercised in choosing seats. The child's feet should always rest on the floor.
All seat work should be carefully planned. Children who are doing seat work should be discouraged in asking questions while a class is in session. Children should be given a chance to ask questions between recitations.

Seat work should be distributed in such a way as to save time.

Program and Classification
The daily program should be kept posted daily.

Reports should be neat, prompt, complete and accurate.
The register should be kept neat, complete and accurate.

II Classroom Procedure
The teacher should plan her daily work in such a manner that she will not have to refer to her text books while teaching the class.
Each lesson should carry with it definite aim.

The essential points of the preceding lesson should be reviewed before touching upon the new assignment.

Each lesson should be presented in a clear, logical and complete manner. Much ingenuity should be used in the manner of asking questions, for instance,

a. Questions should be to the point.
b. Questions should be avoided that can be answered by "yes" or "no."
c. Do not give questions that indicate answers.

Assignments should be made in such a way that the children will know what to do and how they are to do it.

Individual differences are to be considered.
The course of study should be followed.

A health program should be followed.

III Classroom Achievements

Pupils should work together in a harmonious and cooperative manner.
A friendly relationship should exist between pupil and teacher.

Honesty and fairness should prevail at all times.

Pupils and teacher should be punctual.

Pupils should be loyal to their school.

The school property should be respected.

All pupils should if possible participate in the county school fair.

IV The School as a Social Center

Patron's Day and Joint District Conference add much to the social life of the school.

A Parent Teacher's Association should be organized in every school district.

The playground should be supervised at least 150 minutes per week in order to make it a desirable social center.

V The Ideal Teacher

Physical Traits
Height—average
Weight—average
Build—average
Appearance—neat, not gaudy
Facial expression—pleasant and unassuming
Health—excellent
Efficiency of sense organs, etc.—good.

Mental Traits
Intelligence not less than 100 I. Q.
Mental activity such as perceiving, reasoning, etc.—good.
Special Capacities

Social Aptitude—excellent
Mechanical—average
Artistic Sobriety—some degree of it.

Acquired Interests, Knowledge and Technical Skill

Deep interest in work
High school and college training
Professional training
Temperament—Should possess a good disposition, a genuine love for children, sympathy, sincerity, naturalization, culture, a sense of justice, courage, and self-confidence.

Vocation—Should be positive, determined, and strong minded.

Character—Should possess social and ethical ideas, should have good morals, honesty, decency, sympathy, and unselfishness, etc.

Should be pattern for children to imitate.

WHERE LUCK HAS BEEN FOUND

In thrift and foresight

In thorough preparation for one's life work

In mental alertness

In always being ready to lend a helping hand wherever and whenever needed.

In being tactful and a good mixer.

In holding the efficiency ideal of oneself and one's capabilities.

On downright, constant hard work.

In being ready for the opportunity when it comes.

In courtesy, kindness and consideration of others.

In helping oneself instead of looking to others for boosts, capital, or favors of any sort.

In doing one's work a little better than others did theirs.

In not being satisfied with anything but one's best, never accepting one's second best or a blotched job.

In always carrying some reading matter in one's pocket, so that spare time could be utilized while waiting for trains, or for those who were tardy in appointments: by reading for improvement.

In being cheerful, no matter how dark the outlook.

In trying to make good in every possible way, but never taking advantage of others.

In never allowing oneself to believe that he was born to be poor, a failure, a mediocre sort of man or woman.

In carrying the victorious attitude in everything, looking like a winner, talking like a winner, and radiating the confidence of a winner.

In holding that the good things of the world were not made for a favored few, but for all God's children.

In substituting clear grit and persistence for the advantages which many others enjoyed from birth.

In believing that the best part of one's salary is not one's pay envelope but the chance to make good in every bit of work that passes through one's hands.

In keeping eyes and ears open and mouth closed most of the time.

In the right attitude toward life, toward one's work, toward everything and everybody.

In choosing one's company, associating only with people who are doing their best to get on and get up in the world.

In the consciousness of ones partnership with the all-good, and all-supply, with the Infinite Mind.

In learning through mental chemistry, to neutralize the things which kill one's best efforts—fear, worry, anxiety, jealousy, envy, malice, anger—and thus to keep one's mind free for the larger things.—ORISON SWETT MARDEN.

FOR A BANNER YEAR

West Liberty, Ky., Aug. 21, 1938.

Dear Teachers:

I am pleased with the successful and efficient manner in which the schools are starting out this year. The attendance reports the first month show a marked increase over last year and you as teachers seem to be putting yourself into a splendid school attitude. I feel confident that this will be a record breaking school year.

Let me urge each and every teacher to keep alive a genuine school and community spirit in your district this year. Remember the success of your school depends largely upon the way in which you and your community work together. Remember, too, that to attempt to teach a successful school without the necessary material with which to teach is like trying to build a house without the necessary tools—it can't be done. Use all available material and try to add more to what you already have. Word cards, seat work, and other such material bring results that compensate for the expense of buying them.

There will be a Teacher's Conference for all consolidated schools in the High School Auditorium at West Liberty, Saturday, September 24th at 9 o'clock. Every high school and grade teacher is expected to attend and profit by this meeting.

There will be a county wide Teacher's Conference in the High School Auditorium, at West Liberty, Saturday morning, September 3rd, at 9 o'clock. Every teacher in the county school should attend this meeting. Let's make our attendance at both of these meetings 100 per cent. OVA O. HANEY County Superintendent.

ENROLLMENT INCREASE

Our records show that the enrollment in the rural schools has a decided increase over last year. This is gratifying and deserves mention at this time.

You know and I know that it is impossible to have a good school unless the enrollment is what it ought to be. And I mean by that all the children that are of school age. It is always gratifying to know that you have broken all previous records, but we should not be satisfied until every child in our county is enrolled in school. Why not adopt this for our slogan, "Every child of school age enrolled in school."

In boasting of our enrollment this year I have often been asked this question, Why? My answer has run something like this: We have the best core of teachers that can be found anywhere, they have gone out and acquainted the parents with the school, they have acquainted themselves with the home. The parents have acquired a knowledge of the school and its aims and methods so that they can work with the school and not against it. This acquaintance has been accomplished through P. T. A. organizations and other social organizations.

Just as life has changed in the past twenty-five years or even in the past decade so the school has changed to meet the changing conditions. Parents should know what the schools are doing to help the children meet the new age and the schools need the help of the parents to interpret their efforts to the unformed public. Most of the criticism of the modern school comes from those who have not realized that the old education would be as inadequate for a child of today as a return to the stage coach as a means of transportation would be for the present day public. The emphasis is no longer upon learning facts, but upon doing.

I know you have worked hard to accomplish this marvelous record but if you will keep it up throughout the year I am sure you will have no regrets.

My efforts to bring you this important news through the Courier reminds me of a little colored boy down in Georgia who never could get enough molasses to eat. He was continually running errands for the storekeeper in the hope of getting a few licks of his favorite food. One Saturday he was seated on the top of the molasses barrel listening to the general conversation, and thinking about the nearness of the delicious molasses, when the barrel head broke down he went! Raising up, dripping with molasses, he rolled his eyes heavenward and exclaimed, "Lord, make my tongue long enough to take care of this situation!"

So my answer will be to those who ask, why? from this time on will be, "We don't want teachers that sit down and SIT, we have teachers that GET UP AND GET!"

W. O. PELFREY, Attendance Officer, Morgan County Schools.

WHITE OAK BRANCH SCHOOL

We have fifty-two pupils enrolled and thirty-five have had perfect attendance for this month.

A "duddy" suggestion was made by Paul Williams, a seventh grade student, last week. He said, "All parents should teach their children to swim." "My mother always told me to stay away from the water until I learn to swim," replied Phoeby Williams, another seventh grader.

"That's the reason you missed that day of school," said Paul, "I've swum to school seven days out of eighteen this month."

We are planning a trip to Cincinnati to visit the zoo the first week end in September.

We have added several maps and bulletins to our rooms and have also cleared our school ground.

Those on the honor roll the first month were: Alene Conley, Phoeby Williams, Paul Blanton and Paul Williams. A snapshot was taken of these students for our school scrap book.

We have a good soft ball team and have enjoyed several interesting games in spite of the terrific heat.

The following parents have visited us thus far: Rev. and Mrs. A. C. Bradley, Mrs. Roy M. Gilliam, Mrs. Mart Blanton, Mrs. Charlie Bradley, Mrs. Kenus Smith, Mrs. William Conley, Marion Conley and Mr. and Mrs. Lonzie Holbrook.

Let's us all join hands and make this the most successful school year in the history of Morgan County.

MARJORIE COX, EDYTHE ALLEN, Teachers.

Good news first in the Courier.

School Monday

West Liberty schools will assemble at the High School Auditorium on Monday morning, August 28 at 9 o'clock for convocation. Immediately thereafter pupils will assemble in their home rooms for registration. Regular class work will begin Tuesday morning. Prompt and full attendance is expected of all pupils who expect to pass.

BOB JONES COMMENTS

In Death Valley there is a little rat called the Trade-Rat. He is a small little thing and works in the dark. He is called a Trade Rat because when people are camping in the valley he trades sticks and stones for food. Sin is a trade rat. It trades a trembling hand for a steady hand. It trades the blister of shame for the roses of modesty. It trades a bloody, bloated eye for an eye that is clear and bright. It trades wrinkles of shame for smiles of purity. It trades homes of misery for homes of happiness. It trades debauchery for honor and discord for peace. What fools people are to play with sin!—who permit it to come into their homes or into their lives. Sin has never brought happiness to any human heart. The devil is a cruel master. He uses people and then crushes them. Sin is always destructive. It does not create. It destroys. It does not build. It wrecks. Yet, people play with sin. Sin defames the name of a pure girl. It dugs the grave of a suicide. It puts stripes on convicts. It puts men in electric chairs. If there had been no sin there would have been no dying. God wants men to be happy. So He sent His son to die on the cross to save people from sin. Yet, millions who hear the Gospel reject it. They have the false idea that sin can bring happiness to their hearts. Somehow they seem to have an impression that God has it in for men and that He wants them to be miserable and wretched. God is no enemy to happiness. He is a friend to happiness. To you unhappy ones, let me recommend Jesus Christ. He can bring peace to your troubled heart.

Men may come to Jesus as a teacher. That is the way Nicodemus came. Men may come to Him to have some need supplied. The crowds followed Him because He could multiply loaves and fishes. It is possible to come to Jesus for ethics for "never man spake as He spake." It is possible to come to Him out of curiosity. Zachariah saw a crowd going down the street. He knew the people were following someone. He ran before and climbed up into a tree to see whom they were following. Men may come to Jesus simply fascinated by His personality. There never has been but one Jesus Christ. He stands out in a class to Himself. Someone has said that you can compare one general with another general, one statesman with another statesman, one artist with another artist, but there is no one with whom you can compare Jesus. Men may come to Jesus for a number of reasons. He was a teacher. He was an example. He wrought miracles. Here is something significant in the light of the Bible: No man can come to God except by way of the cross of Jesus. Our only approach to God is through the atoning merits of His Son Jesus Christ our Lord. We have salvation in His name. We talk to God in His name. We ask the forgiveness for sin for His name's sake. We close our prayers with the statement, "We ask this for Jesus' sake." Through Jesus Christ and His atoning blood the vilest, most wretched and hopeless sinner in all the world may approach God. According to the Bible, no one stands in the presence of God justified unless he has trusted Jesus Christ as a personal Savior.
